Medical Service Providers are advised to take note of the following as it pertains to the treatment of patients in relation to The Compensation for Occupational Injuries and Diseases Act of 1993 (COID Act):

1. An employee as defined in the COID Act of 1993, is at liberty to choose their preferred Medical Service Provider and no interference with this is permitted. As long as it is exercised reasonably and without prejudice to the employee or The Compensation Fund.
 - a. The only exception rule is in case where an employer, with the approval of The Compensation Fund, provides comprehensive medical aid facilities to his employees, i.e. including hospital, nursing and other services — Section 78 of the COID Act refers.
2. In terms of Section 42 of The COID Act, The Compensation Fund may refer an injured employee to a specialist medical practitioner, designated by the Director General for a medical examination and report.

4. In the event of a change of a Medical Service Provider attending to a case, the first treating doctor in attendance will, except where the case is transferred to a specialist, be regarded as the principal treating doctor.
5. To avoid disputes regarding the payment for services rendered, Medical Service Providers should refrain from treating an employee already under treatment by another medical practitioner without consulting/informing the principal treating doctor. As a general rule, changes of Medical Service Providers are not encouraged by The Compensation Fund, unless sufficient reasons exist for such a change.
